Using the FP Goals: Identifying Opportunities and the Estimated Impact of Different Scale-Up Scenarios

The Family Planning Goals Model (FP Goals) was developed by the Track20 Project to support governments in the development of evidence based strategic plans. FP Goals estimates the impact of high impact practices on modern contraceptive prevalence. The interventions included in the model are based on an extensive literature review and align with the High Impact Practices (HIPs). One of the unique aspects of FP Goals is that the model is calibrated to each country context. The current FP program is included in the baseline of the model so that opportunities can be identified and leveraged. The model has been used in many countries to support the development of new strategies, identify opportunities, set goals, and develop benchmarks and monitoring plans. During the session participants will be introduced to FP Goals including its assumptions, data needs, application process, and results. Specifically, by the end of the session, participants will be able to:

- Describe the purpose of FP Goals and when it can be useful to apply.
- Understand the assumptions used to estimate impacts, including how country context impacts the estimates.

- Learn about the unit cost database that can be combined with FP Goals to provide additional information for informed decision-making.

8 Lunchtime Roundtable Discussions, November 15-16, 2022

Location: TBA

Tuesday, November 15

Table #15 La production de résultats de recherche de qualité sur la planification familiale (PF) et leur utilisation pour informer les politiques et programmes dans la région de l'Afrique de l'ouest Francophone

Organizers: Population Council Senegal et Partenariat de Ouagadougou

Contact: Fatou Bintou Mbow, fmbow@popcouncil.org; Abdoulaye Ousseini

Bien que des décideurs politiques engagés et des chercheurs experts existent dans la région de l'Afrique de l'Ouest Francophone et partagent une passion pour l'amélioration des résultats de la PF, il y a un manque de culture de collaboration qui leur permettrait d'augmenter leur impact collectif.

L'Objectif de la table ronde sera une opportunité de partage d'expériences et de débattre sur :

1. Comment renforcer la collaboration avec les partenaires nationaux et régionaux
2. Comment promouvoir l'utilisation des résultats de recherche pour informer les politiques et programmes

Wednesday, November 16:

Table # 7 FP and Comprehensive Abortion Care Toolkit for primary health care providers

Organizer: WHO

Contact: Ulrika Rehnstrom Loi, rehnstromu@who.int

WHO has produced a toolkit for primary health care workforce with the aim to enhance competency-based education and strengthen continuing professional development. Rigorous validation of the draft competencies involved:

- feedback from WHO country offices, regional offices and headquarters;
- a large-scale, multilingual global Delphi survey;
- a global, multilingual town hall meeting with diverse participants from all WHO regions.

1. Déconstruire les stéréotypes de genre et les pressions socio-culturelles, notamment en matière de DSSR
2. Libérer la parole sur les VBG, créer un cadre d'écoute sûr, et se réappropriier les récits
3. Renforcer la synergie d'action entre féministes qui travaillent sur les DSSR, encourager les mouvements collectifs féministes

Organizer: WHO

Contact: Georges Danhoundo, danhoundog@who.int

WHO has produced a handbook to provide guidance to Member States for ensuring progress towards universal access to comprehensive sexual and reproductive health (SRH) in the context of primary health care (PHC)- and universal health coverage (UHC)-related policy and strategy reforms. The handbook is intended for all stakeholders working towards ensuring universal access to SRH services and provides guidance on:

2. How health systems can deliver integrated SRH services; and
3. Accountability, monitoring, and evaluation.

Table # 11 Nivi: The Digital Health Marketplace

Organizer: Nivi

Contact: Ben Bellows, ben@nivi.io

Nivi's marketplace is where organizations connect with and serve consumers. Nivi generates awareness, service and product referrals, and consumer demand insights for health education organizations, public and private service providers, healthcare payers, manufacturers, and other supply chain stakeholders. Nivi's chatbot is freely available via WhatsApp and Facebook Messenger. Chatbot awareness is generated from Nivi's paid campaigns, re-engagement with Nivi's growing user base, and external partners' campaigns. Nivi improves access to family planning and other health services by targeting relevant information and referrals when the user is most open to receiving it. Once on the askNivi platform, users follow the conversational threads that interest them the most, including threads to relevant referrals at nearby facilities and e-commerce options.

Table # 12 WHO/IBP tools and resources on FP/SRH

Organizer: WHO/IBP Network

Contact: Carolin Ekman, ekmanc@who.int

The mission of the WHO/IBP Network is to support the dissemination and use of evidence-based guidelines and programmatic interventions in FP/SRH. We encourage knowledge-sharing and facilitate partnerships. We also support implementation and documentation, including through the promotion of storytelling as a means to document implementation of FP/SRH evidence, and to share knowledge about what works on the ground. In this session, we will highlight selected WHO resources. These include various WHO Guidelines as well as IBP Tools used to support implementation and use, such as storytelling strategies, online communities of practice, and web-based resources.

Table # 13 WHO's Guideline on self-care interventions for health and well-being

Organizer: World Health Organization

Contact: Kabir Singh, singhkab@who.int ; Manjulaa Narasimhan narasimhanm@who.int

While delivery of essential health information and services through facility- and outreach- based health workers will continue to be the mainstay of national health systems, self-care interventions are increasingly being developed and integrated within broader health systems. Self-care recognizes individuals as active agents in managing their own health and well-being, including for sexual and reproductive health and rights. The purpose of this round table will be to present an overview of WHO normative guidelines, tools and frameworks, and present examples of national-level efforts that bring together integrated health systems and people-centered approaches to advancing UHC.
