DELIVER, a six-year worldwide technical assistance support contract, is funded by the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID).

Implemented by John Snow, Inc. (JSI) (contract no. HRN-C-00-00-00010-00) and subcontractors (Manoff Group, Program for Appropriate Technology in Health [PATH], and Crown Agents Consultancy, Inc.), DELIVER strengthens the supply chains of health and family planning programs in developing countries to ensure the availability of critical health products for customers. DELIVER also provides technical management of USAID's central contraceptive management information system.

Abstract

The Ministry of Health (MOH) of Malawi is committed to establishing an integrated health logistics system, especially for products in the Essential Health Package (EHP). Over a six-year period, DELIVER provided technical assistance to the MOH in building an integrated logistics system, including the implementation of the reengineered logistics system; designing and implementing a new training program based on a revised set of standard operating procedures; and improving the EHP supply chain and information systems.
